

Meet our alpacas, the alpacas are listed in order of purchase

Elvis: He's our big boss of the group. He may be the smallest, but when it comes down to it, everyone else takes a step back for him. Elvis often keeps an eye on everything from a distance.

Guusje: Guusje is Elvis' son, Guusje is a very calm and sweet alpaca, he often prefers to be lazy than tired. Our Guus often doesn't mind being petted

Benjamin: Benjamin is Guusje's best friend, he likes to make mischief and pranks, so he has managed to escape and go on adventures several times.

Joske: Joske is one of the large alpacas we have on the farm. He is often mistaken for a llama, but all the residents on the farm are really alpacas.

Royke: Our Royke is perhaps one of the biggest cuddly toys we have. When the sun shines, he also enjoys sunbathing in the meadow or during a walk.

Wimke: Wimke, together with Royke, is the younger cousin of Joske and Benjamin. Wimke looks a lot like our Joske, but if you pay close attention, Wimke has a small light brown spot on his neck.

Bruno: Bruno is one of the friendliest, when he goes for a walk he likes to dive into the bushes and in the meadow he always comes and sniffs the visitors to see if there is anything tasty.

Sky: All it takes is a small puddle of mud somewhere and our Sky is immediately covered in mud from head to toe. Despite that, it is a winner.

Bobbie: Just like Guusje, Bobbie is one of our calmest alpacas, during a walk he is the biggest chatter we have and he can stay with you the entire route.

Johnny: Johnny is probably the easiest to remember, so the white spots on his face are unmissable. He is often a bit shy, so keep an eye on everything from a distance.

Tommie: Our Tommie is most visitors' favorite, he is on the small side and has very cute eyes, he is quite shy but always comes to check on people

Sem: Our Sem is our latest addition, together with 5 others. Sem can be recognized by his brown fur and black head and feet. It is a combination that you don't see every day.

Olaf: The name Olaf was invented by our volunteers, with its special color. Although it has a great color, it also has a very present character. He is often afraid that he will lack something when food is given.

Max: Our Max's best friend is really Olaf, they go out for walks together and also like to play together in the meadow. You can recognize Max by his bald face

Rudy: Rudy, together with our Ferry, is the newest addition to the herd. Rudy has already found his way, but in the beginning he was the shyest alpaca ever. Now that it has now been shaved, he has become extremely curious.

Ferry: Our Ferry is Rudy's best friend, he is very curious and likes to come and see if people have something nice for him. He also enjoys playing with Rudy in the meadow.
